

Environmental Management Association of Hong Kong (EMAHK)

Established in 2010, EMAHK's vision is to be Hong Kong's leading and recognised contributor to environmental management and sustainable development discourse, as well as the advancement of environmental management as a professional field.

EMAHK's mission is to improve the quality of Hong Kong's and its hinterland's environment by exposing its Members to cutting-edge practical knowledge in environmental management while improving community awareness of environmental protection.

At EMAHK, we aspire to share this professional knowledge in the context of Hong Kong's, China's and Asia's rapidly growing cities and regions facing land degradation, water and forest depletion, and climate change, among others. Our Members represent a cross-section of environmental-related disciplines and practices, bridging the gap between scientific knowledge, context-specific practice, and societal actions.

Since our establishment, EMAHK has advanced our Members' knowledge by organizing seminars, technical site visits, overseas learning exchanges, career talks and other activities. These include:

- ◆ Public consultations on Hong Kong's Climate Change Strategy, MP2030: Stakeholder Engagement, MSW charging scheme, Biodiversity Strategy and Action Plan, and Fuel mix
- ◆ Overseas study trips to Macau, Shanghai, and Taiwan
- ◆ Seminars on Clean Air, LNG, EV, Climate change
- ◆ Site visits to GeoPark, LNG filling station, Central-Wanchai Bypass, HK Science Park, Shenzhen air quality monitoring facility
- ◆ Career Talks

In addition to face-to-face activities, we utilize virtual platforms to offer continuous professional benefits to our Members. Among these, we keep them abreast on news and events on environmental management in Hong Kong, China and Asia, and provide networking opportunities with like-minded individuals from universities, professional bodies, and industry. Together, we form a movement that aims to both educate and promote environmental and sustainable practices throughout this community and beyond.

Membership not only allows environmental professionals to benefit from reduced rates at EMAHK activities, but also at those organised by our partnering organizations. These organizations offer additional knowledge into a greater number of environmental policy and management policies and practices involving many different organisations and companies.

We warmly welcome you to join EMAHK! Once you become a Member, you will become part of a family that continually strives to understand today's environmental management challenges and provide it with solutions.

For more information on EMAHK membership, visit our website:

www.emahk.org

We hope to see you at our next event!

Feel free to contact us at membership@emahk.org if you have any questions.